What You Are Signing Up For

Information sheet for volunteer families

Thank you for thinking about taking part. This sheet explains everything in plain language so you can decide with confidence. Please ask about anything that is unclear.

About the program

I am a licensed practitioner at ConnectEd Kids Therapy Center, currently training in the NBO. The Newborn Behavioral Observations (NBO) is a gentle, relationship-building way of getting to know a newborn together with the baby's parents. It was developed at the Brazelton Institute, Boston Children's Hospital. To complete my NBO certification, I need to share observation visits with several families. These visits are free, and your help is truly valued.

What you may gain

Your baby's personality, in your hands. You will see what your baby likes, how your baby calms, and how your baby tells you what he or she needs.

Confidence. You will hear what you are already doing well and leave with ideas that fit your baby.

A keepsake. You take home a Parent Summary written in your baby's voice.

No cost and no judgment. It is free, relaxed, and strengths-based.

Who can take part

- Babies from birth to about 3 months (corrected age for babies born early), living at home with family and medically stable.
- A parent or another family member who can be present for the whole visit.
- Twins or multiples: one baby is observed per visit. We can arrange a separate visit for another.

What happens

1. A short chat beforehand to answer your questions and send the checklist.
2. The visit at [VISIT LOCATION], about [VISIT LENGTH]. We settle in, watch your baby quietly, and try gentle observations of your baby's sleep, movement, reflexes, looking, listening, crying, and comforting. You are invited to help.
3. A conversation about what we saw and what you noticed.
4. Your Parent Summary, filled out together. You keep the original.
5. A short feedback form, if you wish.

Optionally, we can arrange a second visit at least a week later. This is never required.

Cost and compensation

The visit is free. You will not be asked to pay or buy anything, and there is no payment or gift for taking part.

Your baby's comfort and safety

- Nothing we do is painful. Most babies fuss or cry at some point; we will comfort your baby together.
- Your baby may be briefly uncovered or undressed in a warm room so that we can see movement. You may say no to this.
- You stay with your baby the whole time. I will clean my hands before touching your baby and use clean gloves when touching your baby's mouth.

- If your baby becomes upset or tired, we pause or stop. You can end the visit at any time, for any reason.
- If you or your baby are unwell on the day, we will reschedule.

Your choices

- Taking part is voluntary. You can say no, or stop later, without giving a reason and without any effect on your baby's care or on any other service you receive from us.
- Recording (video or audio) is optional and has its own consent. You can say no and still take part.
- Whether clips may be used to teach at ConnectEd Kids Therapy Center, CORE, and SPACES is part of the recording consent (Consent 2). Using your feedback, written examples, or photos to tell others about our program is separate and optional (Consent 3).
- You can ask me to delete your information or recordings at any time.

Privacy

ConnectEd Kids Therapy Center keeps your name and contact details private. To complete my certification, I send my written observations to my certification mentor and the Brazelton Institute using only your baby's first initial, age, and gestational age, never your names or contact details. We follow the Data Privacy Act of 2012 (Republic Act No. 10173). The consent form explains this in detail.

What I cannot do

This visit is not a test, a medical examination, a diagnosis, or medical advice, and it does not replace your baby's doctor. If I notice something I think you may wish to talk through with your baby's doctor, I will tell you kindly and the decision is yours. In an emergency, call 911 or go to the nearest hospital.

Next step

If you would like to take part, or just ask questions first, contact us. You will receive the consent forms to read before the visit, and I will go over them with you in the language you prefer.
